Registration
January 28, 2021

A virtual presentation

Most of us, if not all, are dealing with the current nightmares of rising freight costs, shipment delays, shortages etc. While we can't fix the issues right now, we should understand the current situation, processes and causes of these issues. The more informed you are of what is going on in the logistics world, the better you'll be able to plan and work with your customers.

Join us for Logistics Lunch and Learn, January 28th, presented by Chris Donnell, Sales Director with Scanwell Logistics. He will provide an up to date report and explanation on what is creating issues with freight.

Date: January 28th
